

TRUSTEE UPDATE TO FORMER SHAREHOLDERS OF B.C. ADVANTAGE FUNDS

Vancouver, June 13, 2018 – 1085273 B.C. Ltd. (the “Trust”) provided an update today to the former shareholders of B.C. Advantage Funds Ltd. (the “Company”) for the month of May 2018.

Administration

Upon dissolution of the Company, the shareholders of B.C. Advantage Funds ceased to be shareholders and are now beneficiaries of the Trust. Distributions of the Trust will be made rateably to prior Company shareholders in satisfaction of their respective interests in the Trust.

Disposition Plans for Remaining Portfolio Investments

The trustee has undertaken to dispose of all assets, being principally the remaining B.C.-based private company investments of the Company. During May, the purchase of Agreement Express (“AEX”) by Frontier Capital was completed and the Trust received approximately $1.9 million for its AEX shares. Under the transaction there was a small holdback of proceeds (about $30,000 for the Trust), the majority of which the Trust expects to be settled in the coming months. There were no material updates with respect to App Annie or Redlen in May, although both, to the knowledge of the trustee, continue to experience strong revenue growth. A further update to Trust beneficiaries will be provided in early July relating to the month of June 2018.

Trust Expenses & Cash Balance

In May 2018, operating expenses of $4,350 were incurred, primarily on transfer agency fees, professional fees and administrative support. Cash balance at May 31, 2018 was $2.2 million which is being held in a Trust chequing account. During the month, the Trust distributed an aggregate amount of $9,673 to the estates of deceased beneficiaries of the Trust.
